SMOLENSKI IS INDIGNANT.
He Sees no Excuse for the Retreat from Matl.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]
NEW YORK, May 5.—A dispatch to the Journal from Velesino says that in an interview with Gen. Smolenski, the hero of the Greek people, he expressed his indignation over the rout of his countrymen at Matl.

"How did all this come about?" he asked. "It was a panic without a reason, a retreat without an excuse. Those troops at Mati must not be reproached with cowardice. They are the same as those with which we fought a Revolution for five days against tremendous odds and still made headway. I believe I was blundering on the part of the staff and nothing else, that drove them into a panic."

"How are men to fight if they lose confidence in their leaders? They say the army was disheartened. Nonsense. The men were ready to go ahead anywhere, but how were they to understand a policy of continual retreat without defeat? Our soldiers are like the French; they want to go always ahead, but want to see the officers

"I repeat, the troops we led at Dimon-loul, Janina, Reveni and Bougzez were the very same, but there we did go ahead, and our men knew the Turks never would compel us to retreat."
"But who gave the order for you to retreat?"
"I may tell you from whom the order came—from Prince Constantine. I refused to believe it. I waited, and a second and more pressing order followed. I began to understand what fault had been committed. I saw, however, what would be the consequences if I refused to obey and disregarded the misjudged order, and when the third came, insisting on an immediate withdrawal and announcing that no troops were left north of Larissa, I saw all was lost and thought only of saving for the country the brave corps that had followed me inside the Turkish frontier.

"Our retreat was in perfect order. Nothing was lost and there was not the slighted confusion. We marched back with our eyes full of tears. We saw our hopes blighted, a province lost and a shadow cast on the honor of our army. We were depressed, no doubt; but on our way to Pharsala we thought our brave army had been betrayed and hoped that our energy would allow us to repair the mischief. Now we are here to try to do it. I am here to defend Volo. The Turks must pass over me.

reach Volo, and I will die hard. I should prefer marching on Larissa, but cannot do it alone. I ought to be helped. There should be combined action of the staff and Prince at Pharsa, but these people are slow.

"When the army is completely reformed at Pharsala, then we will combine with the fleet and hope to be most successful.

"We have few friends and apprecia-them the more. Tell our friends in America that they need not despair yet. We mean to deserve their friendship by acting up to the hard-earned reputation of our countrymen."

CONSTANTINE'S DEFENSE.
He Denies That He Gave the Order to Retreat.
 [BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

NEW YORK, May 5.—A dispatch from the Journal from Pharsala says that His Royal Highness, Crown Prince Constantine, commander-in-chief of the Greek army, is now staying with his stuff in a very plain house which may still be considered a palace at Pharasala. It stands just outside the town on the slope of the mountain which surround a magnificent plain, which for a second time, the fate of country will perhaps be settled in a few days. In the course of an interview the correspondent said to the Prince:

"When I last had the honor of seeing Your Royal Highness I lit-thought events would take such a disastrous turn. Friends of Greece are a loss to explain how or why the forces of the country were so suddenly with-

"I am well aware," His Highness answered, "that our decision has been adversely criticised in Greece and elsewhere. Still, as chief of the army,

"You have seen the way our troops fought in the few days the campaign lasted. I was in the front, as was duty, and I may say the idea never crossed my mind that a retreat was necessary. They now reproach me with having given orders to leave our positions. You are at liberty to decline

The truth is, all my orders to the co

"However, those in command up their own responsibility and for reasons I cannot discuss, ordered the retreat from Matl and Derellra. We time has passed over these events and people can judge coolly, I still believe my action will be considered as wisest that could be taken under circumstances. Certainly my be-broke when I realized that I must abandon Larissa to its fate. However, we did not let that get to us.

"But now that events have driven you to bring back your army," I said to his Highness, "may I ask whether you expect them to continue?"

"You have seen how our soldiers have been fighting at Velestino. You were on the battlefield and could judge for yourself of the bravery and pluck of the Greek troops. The Turks have been driven back toward Larissa. You ask me now if we shall limit our action to defending our positions. I personally remain convinced that it would be preferable to take the offensive. We want to give the army time to settle down again so that the morale will be as good as it was at the opening of the campaign. Before taking any further steps the staff must be convinced that the army has completely regained its former confidence, and that the government can keep it supplied with everything that is necessary.

"We are working hard to get everything in order. I can say no more, but tell our friends that hasty judgment would be unfair and that we hope to show them soon that everything that has been done was really in the interest of the country."

THE COMPANY'S SEAL COPIED.

DIRECTORS THEREFORE CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

Legion of Honor Grand Council. More About Murderer Butler—A. and P. Sale Confirmed—Evidence Against Mrs. Craven.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Information of a sensational character, charging several well-known mining men connected with the Hale and Norcross litigation with forgery, has been lodged with Dist. Atty. Barnes by Attorney Baggett and M. W. Fox, with the view, it is said, to the issuance of warrants for the arrest of those accused. The specific charges, are the alleged forging of the seal of the Hale and Norcross Silver Mining Company and the issuance of fraudulent certificates of stock of the company by parties complained against.

The trouble had its origin in the differences that have existed between the stockholders of the company for some time past. The suit of M. W. Fox against Alvinza Hayward, Hobart and others of the company, which resulted in a judgment of nearly $100,000, is directly responsible for the bitter antagonism between the company and the directors.

Grayson and his friends recently held a meeting of their own and elected a board of directors. The Grayson board at once organized for business, and the necessary certificates of election were made out and sent to Nevada to be filed. As these certificates required to be stamped with the official seal of the company, which was in the possession of Secretary Collins, and therefore unobtainable, a fac simile was made and the documents duly stamped. This according to Attorney Baggett, who represents President Fox, constituted a felony under the provisions of section 47 of the Criminal Code, which declares that no person shall use or incorporate in unauthorized persons constitutes a forgery.

THE FAIR CASE.

More Evidence Brought to Bear Against Mrs. Craven.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—When the suit of the Fair heirs and executors against Mrs. Nettle Craven was resumed today, the plaintiff presented the most important stage of the case, direct proof of forgery of the Craven deeds and of the certificates of acknowledgment attached thereto. W. E. Sanford, an employe of the Crocker Pottery Company, testified to the presence of representatives from the United States and the Pacific company of the Southern Pacific Company. MORE ABOUT BUTLER.

The Murderer Said to Have Virtually Confessed Several Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Attorney A. L. Black, who defended Frank Butler, the Australian murderer, expects to receive today or tomorrow, $1400 and a ticket for passage to Manila, his Black is as confident as he can be that he will receive the money, as he says that, while Butler proved himself to be the biggest liar he ever knew, the multi-murderer never once made a statement to him that he ever learned to be false. For this reason some things Butler told his attorney may be of importance in the history of the murderer's life.

The stories related by Butler to Mr. Black were not told him as an attorney, and Butler said he did not care what Black made public of his statements, as he had got out of the country, as he never expected to reach Australia alive. Black is very much surprised that Butler was carried to Sydney safely.

He said, in discussing the history and acts of Butler: "Butler, Ashie, or whatever you might call him, made some statements that are virtually a confession of many of his crimes. Though he would not go so far as to say directly that he killed any one, he practically confessed to more than a dozen murders, some of which have never been charged to him. The great criminal's real name is John Newman. He was born in West Bromwich, Staffordshire, Eng., and is 38 years old.

The extradition of Butler cost the English government nearly $100,000. It is said. Outside of the fee of Cornack & Donohue, the attorneys, it was at least $100,000 every item of expense for keeping Butler at the County Jail and the City Prison had to be paid. The American government or the city of San Francisco was not to be paid.

Francisco was not to be paid. A while there were six keepers hired to watch Butler at $5 a day.

LEGION OF HONOR.

Instructions to the Delegates to the Supreme Council.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—At the second day's session of the Grand Council of the American Legion of Honor for the California Jurisdiction today, resolutions of instruction on various points were voted. To be given to the delegates to the Supreme Council of the order, which will represent the California Jurisdiction in the Supreme Council of the order, which convenes at Buffalo, N. Y., next August.

The delegates were instructed to work for such an amendment of the present law as will extend by fifteen days the time within which suspended members may be reinstated, also to favor such action as shall allow members of the order who are in insurance class B, which is to be done away with, to enter class A at any time in the future, instead of compelling them to do so, if, at all, by July 1.

The council will consider the proposition to amend the suicide clause in the insurance certificates of the order as to make it conform to the ordinary rules of commercial insurance companies. In other words, instead of having the facts of a man's death by suicide affect his policy in that it should have no effect whatever, unless the act of suicide took place within two years after the date of issue of the certificate.

The biennial session ended tonight by the election of the following grand officers: Commander, Thomas W. Metson, San Francisco; Orator, J. H. Seawell, Ukiah; Secretary, C. A. Burton, Marysville; Vice-Commander, H. Hamilton, Oakland; Chaplain, Rev. D. O. Kelly, San Francisco; Guide, Mary C. Snyder, Grass Valley; Warden, John A. Nelson, San Francisco; Sentry, Almina M. Jones, Mokelumne Hill; Trustees, E. V. Moser, Los Angeles; A. H. Cummings, Sanger; J. J. Johnson, Fresno; Finance Committee, John P. Pinkham, San Francisco. These officers were installed by the Supreme Council, assisted by the Supreme Guide.

INCENDIARISM AT HUBNER.

E. J. Denkle's Bakery Burned—Chinese Laundry Again Saved.

HUBNER, May 5.—Four weeks ago an attempt was made to burn down Chang's Chinese laundry and store here. By hard work the building was saved. This morning, at 2 o'clock, the building adjoining, occupied by E. J. Denkle as a bakery, was discovered on fire. The fire was made to burn down the church bell ring and soon a crowd gathered. Denkle, his wife and baby were aroused and taken out. Willing hands did active service, and though the bakery was totally destroyed, the Chinese building, which was in the rear, and the fire was kept from spreading.

No doubt both fires were incendiary, but whether the intention was to burn out the Chinaman or the baker is undetermined. Dogs owned by each were poisoned recently. The burned building was insured by the Mutual and was valued at about $1000. It was insured in the Hartford for $500. Denkle's loss is considerable. He is insured in the Royal for $100.

CONFIRMATION PROCEEDINGS.

Santa Fe Officials Leave Phoenix for This City.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.), May 5.—At Prescott today Judge Hawkins in a few moments of time confirmed the sale of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad to the Santa Fe interest, the application being proffered by Chairman Walker of the Reorganization Committee, and by the chief counsel of the road.

Phoenix was visited by the party this afternoon, departure being taken this evening for Los Angeles, where a similar application of confirmation will be made.

The Santa Fe officials, who are now in Phoenix, are expected to arrive in Los Angeles on Monday, and will remain here for a few days, in which the former essayed to concede sixteen points to the four-year-old son of Fresno. Notwithstanding the marked improvement shown by Ostler Joe of late, and his sensational defeat of Salsman and Victor on Monday last, the talent pinned its faith to Buckwa, which was heavily backed at 7 to 5, Ostler Joe being as good as 7 to 5 at post time.

Ostler Joe, with Piggett, went out in front, and never being headed, won easily by four lengths in the phenomenal time of 1:53, thus establishing a new record for the distance. The former record was 1:53. The first time he was traversed in 1:53. Summary:

Ostler Joe Defeats Buckwa in Coast Time—The Terrill Going to Paris—Wire-tapping Plot in Kentucky.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.]

BOSTON, May 5.—A crowd of a thousand assembled yesterday in Newspaper Row to see A. Rube, A. Rube's wife, A. Rube's dog and A. Rube's tandem cycle begin a tour across the continent to San Francisco.

A. Rube proved to be William Vano, better known to the folks as "Barnum's Yankee," or as "Willie Taylor, the jay from Bethel, Vt." The dog, Fritz, occupied a basket on the tandem. Vano wore long hair, all his own; a luxuriant bunch of acquired whiskers of the so-called small variety under his chin, and a small hat—a souvenir of his Barnum days. He is a typical countryman.

Mrs. Vano is a prepossessing little woman, tastefully garbed in a stylish dark green corduroy jacket, loose bloomers, tan leggings, gaiters and a green corduroy hat. She is an English woman, and an expert cyclist, like her husband. This is the first time that a woman has attempted the journey to San Francisco on a tandem.

The route has been laid out to Worcester, Springfield, North Adams, Troy and Albany, following the New York Central railroad to Buffalo, thence through Ohio to Chicago, etc. They expect to be on the road until November, and to ride about forty miles a day, or about two hundred and fifty miles a week. A procession of several hundred boys and men escorted them out of town.

OAKLAND, May 5.—The weather was fine and the track fast. The Terrills will allow themselves ample time for their preparatory work and will gradually learn the style of French racing, which is altogether different from that which obtains here. Their first matches will be with the middle-class riders, and as the season advances they will try higher game. Both of them have earned reputations here as sprinters, and their work abroad will be watched with interest.

CONGRESS OF MAILS.

INTERNATIONAL POSTAL UNION DELEGATES ASSEMBLE.

Meeting Opens in the Great Hall of the Art Gallery and is Conducted in Secret.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL'S TALK.

THE IDEA OF A UNION CAME FROM THIS COUNTRY.

Extent of the Service—Questions to be Considered—Those Who Did the Honors—Brilliant and Picturesque Scene.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Universal Postal Congress met today in the great hall of the Art Gallery. Fifty-five countries were represented, Korea, China and Orange Free State, which are outside of the pale of the union, had delegates present. Postmaster-General Gary delivered an address of welcome.

It is expected the work of the congress will extend over about six weeks. Most of the work will be transacted by committees, which will submit the result of their labors to congress about once a week. The present postal agreement will be revised and renewed. Several important questions will be considered, among them a proposition to transfer the official mail of countries which are members of the union free of charge; the question of increasing the unit of weight to be carried under a 5-cent stamp from half an ounce to three-quarters of an ounce; and a proposition for a universal stamp.

The hall presented a brilliant appearance when Gen. Batcheller, the premier delegate of the United States, called the congress to order at 11 o'clock. The delegates were in dress suits or full court costume, their breasts bespangled with glittering emblems and enameled orders. The decorations of the hall were lavish. The walls were rich with gorgeous tapestries and shone with coats of arms. The prevailing colors were gold and crimson. The sessions of the congress were held behind closed doors. Postmaster-General Gary, Assistant Postmaster-General Heath, and Capt. Brook did the honors. Postmaster-General Gary in the address of welcome said:

"We want to afford you an object lesson of the marvelous growth of communities founded mainly during the past century which support a postal system, comprising more than 70,000 offices and 200,000 employees, supplying mails for and dispatching them over 170,000 miles of railway, 12,000 miles of steamboat service and by other minor routes of service, aggregating in all over 400,000 miles of post routes, and, in the year 1886, handling a total of 5,693,719,619 pieces of mail matter."

"It is quite appropriate that this, the fifth congress of the International Postal Union, should be held in the United States and at the capital of our nation, for it was here that the suggestion creating this body originated."

"Postmaster-General Blair on August 4, 1862, in a communication addressed to Mr. Seward, then Secretary of State, proposed an international conference of postal delegates to recommend measures looking to the revision, simplification and uniformity of international postal arrangements. And the Department of State submitted the proposition to the governments of Great Britain, France, Prussia, Sweden, the Netherlands, Belgium, Italy and Ecuador. Favorable responses were received from all the governments named, and at Paris, on the second Monday of the following May, the first international conference assembled."

"Out of this idea of an international conference grew the larger idea of a permanent universal postal union, and the first congress of this union met in the hall of the National Senate of Switzerland in September, 1874. The treaty creating this union went into effect on the 1st of July, 1875."

"The Universal Postal Union is young in years, but phenomenal in successful and achievements. It is the outgrowth of separate treaties between different national organizations, compact, in essential respects, from the beginning."

"The founders of the institution are fast passing away. Only a few remain on this side of the Atlantic of time who have personal recollections of its inauguration, and soon there will be left only the scattered and incomplete records of the different postal unions. I tell the story of how one of the grandest projects of the century was conceived and born."

"Some important questions will be brought to your attention which are not likely to be decided by unanimous votes. Some powerful governments will propose modifications of the treaty of Vienna relating to the reduction of transit rates. Others, perhaps, will ask to have such rates abolished. The question of reducing the rates of international postage will come before you. To the consideration of these and other propositions I invite your careful attention, confident that your decision thereon, as well as the other subjects, will be wise and profitable for all the countries concerned."

"Again welcoming you to this capital, wishing for you and a safe return to your homes at the conclusion of a profitable session, I declare the fifth congress of the Universal Postal Union opened, and ask you to organize by nominating a president to conduct your deliberations."

Camille de Lessert, director for Lausanne, Switzerland, the dean of the union, followed the Postmaster-General with a brief address. He proposed Gen. G. S. Batcheller, the oldest of the United States delegates, as president of the congress, and he was unanimously chosen. Gen. Batcheller made a fitting response in French.

Mr. Fritch, director of the Department of Posts for Germany, delivered an eulogy on Dr. von Stephan, and Mr. Neubauer supplemented his colleague's remarks with some words of profound regret.

Mr. Hohen, director of the postal union of Bern, was chosen vice-president of the congress. H. Gall, president of the Imperial Chancellor, was appointed, after which the congress adjourned to meet at the call of the president, who will assemble the delegates as soon as one of the committees is ready to report. The General Committee on Ways and Means is composed of the delegates from twenty-four countries. Mr. Walpole, one of the British delegates, was chosen president of this committee. Mr. Sevastianoff of Russia, vice-president, and Dr. Stern of Belgium recording secretary. The Committee on Registered Mails is composed of the representatives of twenty-three countries, with M. Ausault of France as president; Mr. Chlaradia of Italy vice-president, and G. Cernann of England, secretary.

The Committee on Money Packages, Drafts and Newspaper Subscriptions is composed of delegates from twenty-one countries, with Mr. Fritch of Germany, president; Mr. Neubauer of Austria, vice-president, and M. de Lessert of Switzerland, secretary.

Mr. Ausault, Administrator of Mails and Telegraphs of France, on behalf of the congress, made a brief address in eulogy of the President of the United States, and of the generous hospitality extended to the congress by the American government. An elaborate luncheon was served at the conclusion of the preliminary exercises.

In the afternoon, the three committees which will have charge of the detailed work of the congress, were appointed, after which the congress adjourned to meet at the call of the president, who will assemble the delegates as soon as one of the committees is ready to report.

PORT ORCHARD DOCK.

NAVAL OFFICERS THINK IT IS NOT SERVICEABLE.

A Report Has Gone Forward to the National Capital Which May Result in the Abandonment of the Site—Real Estate Jobbery.

ARBITRATION TREATY FAILS.

SENATE REFUSES TO RATIFY IT IN ITS PRESENT FORM.

Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill Under Consideration in the Senate. An Appropriation for Pearl Harbor Inserted.

[BY THE TIMES SPECIAL WIRE.] WASHINGTON, May 5.—[Special Dispatch.] Senator White says at present he will await the action of the War Department in the harbor matter. Advertisement for bids are expected soon, and there will be time enough to act if any action need be taken.

Senator White says there is no force in the contention that striking out the Hawaiian treaty clause in the Treaty Bill, does not abrogate it, on account of the provision as to one year's notice. A strong fight will be made to restore the provision.

[BY THE TIMES SPECIAL WIRE.] TACOMA (Wash.), May 5.—[Special Dispatch.] The new United States dry dock at Port Orchard may be abandoned as useless upon receipt of the report now on the way to the Secretary of the Navy, and made by the commander of the battleship Oregon, which went on the dock for repairs, but was forced to leave without making them, because of the settling of the dock and the imminent danger of its total collapse. The Oregon was accordingly got out of the dock as quickly as possible, and the commander of the Oregon in a report of the calamity, which was mailed to Washington, D. C., yesterday.

The dock was recently completed at a cost of nearly $1,000,000, and is one of the largest in the world. Several large vessels have been docked there, including U.S.S. Monterey and H.M.S. Hinchin, but nothing unusual was reported, although it is said that there was a noticeable settling of the dock every time a large vessel was taken on, but when the Oregon was placed in the dock and water pumped out, the settling was so marked and so rapid that the officials became very much alarmed and, without waiting for further developments, let in the water and floated the vessel out.

The report now on the way to Washington is said to recommend the abandonment of the dock and the naval station for the reason that the ground on which the dock is built is not suitable and can never be made to sustain the weight of large battleships such as the Oregon. The concrete foundation, which is said to be insufficient, was not laid on the hard pan, but upon a soft and slippery loam or quicksand, which furnishes no bottom upon which to build. The hills surrounding the dock are full of springs, and although the location is said to be a most unfortunate one, and was selected more with a view to real-estate schemes by interested politicians who had a pull with the Navy Department, than because of its fitness for a naval station and dry dock.

It is claimed that the contract, which was taken in the name of Byron, Barlow & Co., of Tacoma, was in reality a political job in which several local politicians, as well as some gentlemen in Washington, D. C., had an interest and that the amount actually spent in the construction of the dock would not exceed half the appropriation set aside for the work. The Oregon will remain in the Sound until her commander hears from Washington.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] NEW YORK, May 5.—It has been known for some time that Nicola Tesla has been making exhaustive investigations concerning Roentgen rays, not alone for their use in scientific demonstrations, but also for their effect upon the human system. Tesla has now given voice to his deductions, so far as he has determined them, in a long statement of his experience with the rays, in the current Electrical Review, and in the course of it he makes some announcements certain to create wide discussions and comment in the scientific world. Summing up his experience, Tesla says:

"It would seem to be advisable, first, to abandon the use of bulbs containing platinum; second, to substitute for them properly-constructed Lardner tubes containing pure aluminum only; third, to use a tube of the conductive material, the advantage that is constructed with great mechanical precision and therefore is capable of producing much sharper impressions; third, to use a protective screen or aluminum sheet, or instead of this, a wet cloth or layer of felt; fourth, to make exposures at a distance of at least four feet; and, and, preferably, to expose longer at a greater distance."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] NEW YORK, May 4.—A dispatch to the Journeal from Berlin says that the bill for the reform of the military penal code will probably not be brought up before the Reichstag this session. New differences have arisen between Prussia and Bavaria concerning the institution of superior military courts in Berlin, because the latter has hitherto had her own courts and naturally declines to give them up. Hohenzollern would not be obliged to tender his resignation if the Kaiser did not refuse to consent to the bill, but these differences cause delay.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] NEW YORK, May 4.—The residence at Winwah Park near New Rochelle, N. Y., of President Green of the Columbia Navigation Company, burned today, causing a loss of $200,000. Many valuable pictures were burned, including one worth $50,000, and another "The Ruins of Egypt," valued at thousands of dollars. Silverware, gold plate and Mrs. Green's diamonds were lost. The mansion contained thirty-five rooms, and cost $70,000. Mrs. Green and servants got out, clad only in night-clothing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.] NEW YORK, May 5.—It is semi-officially denied that the Imperial Chancellor, Prince Hohenlohe has resigned. The Prince was received in audience this morning by the Emperor.

Did you wake with excruciating pains in your head and face?

Have you been exposed to draughts and colds?

Your appetite has been poor for some time?

Has your stomach rebelled against food?

Have you been feeling dull and heavy for some time?

Have you taken much exercise before your present sickness?

Your trouble is neuralgia, or the nerves crying for nourishment. Your organs of digestion are inactive, your food is undigested and the nerves derive little or no nourishment. You need a combination of herbs—no mineral drugs—that will stimulate your digestive organs and promote assimilation; then your nerves will derive proper nourishment and you will be cured. ..Insomnia Cured..

DEHESA, Cal., March 19, 1927.
Last spring, on account of having sickness in the family, I was in poor health, had lost my appetite, and was unable to sleep well. Upon the recommendation of Mr. B. A. Hooker, I bought a dozen bottles of Hospital Tonic. After taking it, my appetite came back, I regained my lost flesh and was again able to sleep soundly. I consider it the best tonic I ever took, and can honestly recommend it to any one who was in the same condition I was in.
Yours respectfully,
EDWIN E. GREGG.

TOO MUCH SUGAR.

Abrogation of the Hawaiian Reciprocity Treaty Advocated.

A special meeting of the board of directors of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association was held yesterday morning for the purpose of considering the reciprocity treaty with the Hawaiian Islands.

Statistics were presented showing that the importation of sugar from those islands since the treaty was in force aggregates nearly $140,000,000, while American exports to Hawaii amount to only $84,000,000. There are upward of 3,000,000 acres of available beet sugar land in this State, capable of producing all of the sugar hitherto imported. The question was asked: Why not put a duty on that sugar which will produce a needed revenue to the government, and encourage the building of beet-sugar factories in California which will furnish profitable employment to tens of thousands of able men, rather than stimulate the industry in the islands, where coolie labor is excessively employed?

After discussing the subject at considerable length, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted, and copies were forwarded to the California Senators and Representatives in Washington:

"Whereas, the treaty now in force between the United States and the Hawaiian Islands provides for the free entry into the United States of raw sugar to the great detriment of the beet-sugar industry of this country, which, under suitable protection, will supply the entire home market within the next few years, thus retaining millions of dollars in the United States, and whereas, since the existence of this treaty all goods bought by Hawaiian firms have been obtained in the cheapest markets in the world, without regard to their obligations under this treaty, therefore, be it Resolved, that our representatives at Washington be earnestly requested to use their votes and influences for the abrogation of the said treaty."

John Doe Smith, the foxey old criminal now serving a term in the City Prison for having burglar's tools in his possession, is as much an enigma to the detectives today as he has been at all times since the hour of his arrest, more than two weeks ago. Every man known to the clever operatives of the upper office have been tried, and persistently tried, to induce the prisoner to divulge his proper name and furnish some information as to his identity and antecedents. Year after year, such attempts have failed flatly. In order to further lessen the chances of his identification the old

BIBLE INSPIRATION.

SUBJECT OF DR. MUNHALL'S FIRST SERMON IN THIS CITY.

Arguments of Skeptics Against the Divine Origin of Holy Writ Met by the Speaker—Announcements of Future Meetings.

Simpson Tabernacle was filled with about two thousand people last night for the initial service held by Rev. L. W. Munhall, D.D., the evangelist, stating it as his opinion that no other evangelistic services in this large church. A chorus of nearly 100 voices carried the music with a rush and a swing, and the congregation joined heartily in singing the popular hymns that were selected.

After the opening prayers and hymns the evangelist was introduced by Rev. Warren F. Day, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational Church. Dr. Munhall began his address by outlining the work to be done in Los Angeles, and deploring the low spiritual condition in this city, as shown by the church records for the past year or two. He urged the abasement of the people before the Lord, and particularly the necessity of cheerful giving, stating it as his opinion that no effective work could be done in the way of soul-saving without a liberal money contribution to the good cause as an evidence of earnest conviction of sin and the value of salvation.

By way of putting this exhortation to practical use, a collection was immediately taken up, and then Dr. Munhall announced that the hymn books in use were his own personal property

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

A wildly incongruous thing happened yesterday—a dead-wagon ran away. The final crash came in front of a hospital, and both the usually staid and solemn funeral horses were killed stone dead.

It is amazing, considering the frequency with which bicycles are stolen, to see the carelessness with which people leave their wheels leaning against the curb without any padlock to prevent a thief from jumping on and riding nonchalantly off.

Contributions to the fund for the unemployed in the park are beginning to lag, and unless there should shortly be an improvement it is likely that the full plan of work cannot be carried out. A considerable amount of money might doubtless be raised by getting merchants and manufacturers of Los Angeles to donate articles, which could be raffled, as there are always a number of people who are ready to spend a few dollars when they have a chance of getting something in return, but who are not ready to give money outright for charity.

Beginning with this year, the University of California will offer more scholarships for worthy students who cannot gain a college education without financial aid than any other educational institution in America. Munificent as are the provisions made, they are yet inadequate to supply the demand. Sixty scholarships are offered for the coming year, but for these sixty 250 applications have been filed from young men and women all over the State.

The Riverside County Supervisors have decided to discontinue the county's exhibit in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, for alleged economical reasons. The directors of the chamber will no doubt be sorry to see Riverside pull out, but the space heretofore allotted to that county will not remain vacant, as Superintendent Wiggins has driven to his wife's end to find room for all the exhibits offered. Riverside and not Los Angeles will be the loser by this short-sighted policy.

The summary removal of a Police Commissioner by the Council because he was too strict a disciplinarian to suit the tastes of the easy-going is already bearing fruit. All the other city officials whose tenure of office is dependent upon the good pleasure of the Council are trembling in their shoes. They feel that henceforth they must be careful how they tread, and must endeavor to be as mouse-like and inoffensive as possible, else the Council will pounce upon them and bite off their heads, too.

At last the plan for the boulevard between Pasadena and Los Angeles seems to be fairly under way, and it cannot be pushed through too rapidly to please the residents of both cities. The old Plaza, which dates from the early days of Los Angeles, would be a fitting terminus at this end of the line for this crowning achievement of the spirit of progress, and a new street running from that point out through the beautiful valley to the Crown City would be one of the greatest attractions that could possibly be added to Los Angeles. Pasadena is taking a part in this matter that reflects great credit upon her generosity and public spirit.

On the eve of the opening of the national convention of the Association of Railway Conductors in Los Angeles comes a proposal for an attempt to bring another national convention here. The Dunkards, 20,000 strong, are about to hold their national conference in Frederick City, Md. An effort will be made by the Dunkards of Southern California and by the executive officials of the local community to persuade the Dunkards to fix upon Los Angeles as the place for holding their next national gathering. Experience has shown how great is the value to the city of being chosen as the place for a national convention because of the amount of money the delegates bring to Southern California, because of the interest it arouses among the visitors, and because of its service in making known the name of Los Angeles throughout the length and breadth of the country.

Fire Record.
The alarm from box No. 8 at 9 o'clock last evening was for a fire in the two-story dwelling of J. F. Brost, at the corner of Dalart and Pasadena avenues. The fire started from a defective flue, and the roof was burned off before the flames could be arrested. The building and contents were damaged to the extent of about $1000.

The postage on the Fiesta Number of The Times is four (4) cents. Be sure to put on the necessary stamps, or your papers will not leave the post.

CARTAGE BUSINESS BOOMING.

Three Extra Drays with Eight Men, Are Required.
In order to deliver the large number of pianos sold to out-of-town customers yesterday at the Bartlett Alteration Sale, it has been necessary to engage for tomorrow three additional teams with eight carmen, all of which will start this morning early on their various routes.

One of them loaded with two pianos, one a fancy cabinet grand Kimball piano, and the other a beautiful small-size "Halse," will be headed for Pasadena and Monrovia. The next one, with one of the famous World's Fair exhibition styles of the "Kimball" together with a red organ, will leave for Rivers, and still another team will be headed for Santa Monica.

Although in some instances it would be found less expensive to box and ship the pianos by freight, customers invariably prefer to have them delivered at their homes under supervision of the firm, so that the instruments are bound to arrive at their destinations in the best condition, without running the risk of being marred by inexperienced truckmen.

PASADENA BOULEVARD.

IMPORTANT MEETING TO DISCUSS THE TERMINI.

A New Street May be Run from the Plaza to Orange Grove Avenue, Necessity of a Proper Entrance into the Business Center.

An interesting and important meeting of the Los Angeles and Pasadena Boulevard Committee was held at the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association rooms in this city on Tuesday afternoon. Besides the committee, Messrs. Hawgood and Purcell of the Committee of Consulting Engineers were present. There were also committees present representing the citizens of South Pasadena, East Pasadena, the San Gabriel Valley and East Los Angeles, who were given a hearing, and who presented maps and data which were submitted to the engineers.

As no definite data had been received concerning the route from East Side Park through Estudillo Cañon to Lincoln Park, South Pasadena, the Committee of Engineers was requested to have a survey of that route made. A strong letter from Walter Raymond was presented and read, offering to donate the right-of-way through his property to the boulevard, if it should go in that direction. A committee of three was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Lockwood and Stewart of Pasadena and E. Mosher of Los Angeles, to confer with the owners of property between South Pasadena and Los Angeles with reference to rights-of-way, donations for the park, etc. The chairman of the committee was also authorized to employ a right-of-way agent, who shall look after ownership, rights-of-way, etc.

The most important action taken by the committee was with reference to expressing an opinion on the location of the termini of at least one of the two boulevards to be constructed. It was decided that if the boulevard to be constructed through East Los Angeles, the terminus should be at the Plaza, and the objective point Orange Grove avenue, in Pasadena. This leaves a large scope of country intermediate, upon which the country part of the road can be located. Pasadena expects to secure a continuation of Orange Grove avenue as far as the line of hills at Lincoln Park. A connection at that point can be made through South Pasadena with Fair Oaks avenue, by way of the Raymond Hotel grounds, if desired. From Lincoln Park the road can be carried to the east of the hills through Estudillo Cañon along the east side of the arroyo.

The meaning of the action taken by the committee is this: The Pasadena and South Pasadena people have said to Los Angeles: "We are waiting to present you with a magnificent entrance into Los Angeles and help you construct the road intermediate into the two towns, but we must have a proper entrance into the business part of the city, and unless that can be secured, the results desired are accomplished."

MRS. STORER'S FAD.

Her Interesting Experiments in a Laboratory.

Mrs. Bellamy Storer devotes a large amount of time to experimenting in glazes for pottery. She has exhibited in the art museums and in the Paris Salon, and has recently completed her experiments on a new glaze which has been obtained by very costly and elaborate experiments, such as no commercial firm could undertake.

Mrs. Storer has a gas kiln at her home and has another in Washington, and works incessantly at her experiments. Her love for pottery amounts to a passion with her, and she may be said to almost devote her life to its development. To produce new glazes is now the thought of every artist interested in pottery, and this latest achievement of Mrs. Storer's will doubtless add to her fame. The new glaze is a dull effect of color somewhat leaning to the iridescent, with curiously mottled effects. There are beautiful spots of color, and it has a texture almost like fur. This latter quality is a most remarkable one, and makes one marvel as he strokes it. Mrs. Storer has taken common chemical crucibles and converted them into things of beauty. They glow and change like the sky.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENTS.

Academy of Sciences Found a New Section.

An Agricultural Experiment Section has been organized by the Executive Board of the Southern California Academy of Sciences. It is the purpose of this section to take up questions affecting the agricultural interests of the southern country, such as insect pests and their remedies, the betterment of crops; preservation of forests; the analyses of commercial fertilizers; and naming of different species of plants. The work of the section will be done free of charge and bulletins will be issued for free distribution, giving the results of the work accomplished. A committee has been appointed by the president of the Academy of Sciences to have charge of the work of organizing the section and appointing officers. The committee has secured rooms at No. 1154 North Main street. The officers appointed are: director, S. W. Bridge, Ph.D.; biologist, Prof. A. J. McClatchie; chemists, E. M. Wade and M. L. Wade.

A YOUNG FANATIC ON RELIGION EXAMINED FOR INSANITY.

A Morphine Fiend Thinks a Year of Folsom Will Cure Him—Will Warner Found Guilty of Manslaughter.

At the City Hall yesterday the Board of Fire Commissioners met in regular session. Little business was transacted. Councilman Hutchison, in discussing Mr. Forman's removal, said that certain police officers would be forced to follow.

At the Courthouse yesterday the Board of Supervisors met and transacted routine business. A damage suit brought by a poultry firm was on trial before Judge Shaw in Department Five. A suit was filed asking for $5000 damages for taking away means of irrigation, and an eastern bicycle company sued to have a Justice Court proceeding annulled on the ground that the company had not been properly notified of the fact that its default had been entered. Will Warner was found guilty of manslaughter and will be sentenced this morning by Judge Smith. A young religious fanatic was examined for insanity and released, and a cocaine and morphine fiend was sentenced to one year in Folsom, after pleading guilty to a charge of burglary.

FIRE COMMISSION.

A SHORT SESSION AND LITTLE BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Application Filed for Permission to Bore an Oil Well in Beauty Tract—Colored Man Applies for Place and is Promised Recognition.

The Board of Fire Commissioners met in regular session yesterday morning with all members present except Commissioner Sabich, who is still too seriously ill to leave his home. There was a half-concealed look of anxiety on the faces of the Commissioners, which was a reflection of the expression noted on the preceding day on the countenances of the Police Commissioners. The summary dismissal of Mr. Forman from the Board of Police Commissioners, is so generally taken as an exhibition of the true freakish disposition of the Democratic minority, and as an illustration of what political excesses it may commit without earning, that every city official whose tenure of office depends upon the will of the Council, is now in fear and trepidation. This may lead to the demoralization of the departments of the city, it is feared, and cause some of the under employees to ignore their superiors in the desire to remain close to the center of the storm. How far-reaching the effects of the Democrats' attack upon the municipal commissions may be is only to be decided by time.

The first matter which came before the Board of Fire Commissioners was the report of Fire Chief Moore. He reported that practice drills were held on April 23, and on May 1 and following days. An order was made to Fire Chief Moore to have engine-house No. 1 fitted with electric lights. This was done on motion of Commissioner Kuhns, who said that he believed there was great danger of fire as long as lamps were used to light the quarters. An application was received from W. Tubbs and George W. Evans for permission to bore for oil in block No. 6 of the Beauty tract. The matter was referred to the Fire Chief with power to act.

G. W. Bright, a colored man, presented a long petition and application for a place in the force of the fire department. He was given to understand that his case would be considered, and that he would be assigned to duty at the first opportunity.

EVADE RESPONSIBILITY.

Only Hutchison Ready to Accept the Brunt of Criticism.

The Democratic combine in the Council which is responsible for the election of Mr. Forman from the Board of Police Commissioners, is slowly coming to its senses. Councilman Hutchison is the only one to whose head the political fumes have mounted and he is still in an unnatural condition of exhilaration. Councilman Nickell gave repeated assurances yesterday that he was innocent of any designs to oust Chief Glass. The matter had gone far enough, in his opinion. He admitted, as did Councilman Ashman, that it would have been wiser and fairer in every respect to have resigned Mr. Forman's dismissal for a week, pending investigation of his official acts. While they had evidently enjoyed their spree, and were inclined to boast of their performances during its continuation, they were beginning to feel the after repentant mood. There can be no doubt but public criticism is bringing them to their senses.

zation of the police department laughed at his serious turn of mind, and hatched plans for a continuance of the amusement of the public at the expense of the Councilman from the Eighth Ward. It was said yesterday that the malcontents of the police force who prevailed upon Councilmen Blanchard, Hutchison, Grider, Ashman and Nickell to remove Mr. Forman are preparing to force the police force who prevailed upon the Councilmen. A floral tribute was suggested as delicate and expressive of tender sentiments, but the idea was not received with much favor. A banquet with a flow of beer was more kindly entertained; it would be more convivial, more democratic and better suited to the tastes of the politicians who were to be honored. Definite plans will be announced later.

[AT THE COURT HOUSE.]

A YOUTHFUL FANATIC.

RALPH COGGSHALL EXAMINED ON A CHARGE OF INSANITY.

A Redondo Druggist Procured the Examination Because His Son Had Deserted His Home to Follow Coggshall's Teachings.

Ralph O. Coggshall was examined before a lunacy commission and Superior Judge M. T. Allen yesterday on a charge of insanity, and was discharged from custody and the complaint against him dismissed. The complaint was sworn to by Kenneth A. Millican. It described Coggshall's mental deficiency by the following expressions: "Labors under delusions. Acts violently at times."

Coggshall is an intelligent-looking, long-haired, eighteen-year-old boy, whose paleness and lack of superfluities show that he is not a gourmand. He told the following story of his life to Judge Allen. He was born and raised in the Middle West, and a few years ago went to work on a farm in Arkansas. Here he was told by the Bible that he was an ordained minister of Christ and that he must cease to think of temporal things and work seven days in the week, saving some of the millions of souls that are perishing daily.

The Lord, he said, told the hearts of the sinners and wicked husbandmen, and now and then a professor of Christianity, to give him meat, drink and raiment, but he never asked for any food or clothing, or money with which to procure them. In fact, he gave no thought to matters pertaining to the body, but on the contrary, ministered to the inner man as seldom as possible. Coggshall started out to preach, first working in small towns in Arkansas and Missouri, and finally reaching Kansas City. From there he went to San Francisco and Oakland, preaching on the streets in both cities, but doing the greater portion of his work individually. About two months ago he came to Los Angeles and has lived with a man and his wife at No. 633 West Washington street. This family is of Coggshall's religious belief.

Coggshall answered a number of questions readily and showed that his creed denounced ordinary labor as sinful and other ideas not in common with his associates of infidelity. He said he would gladly go to the insane asylum but that they could not keep him there, even if he said that if he did go to the asylum and they sought to keep him still he would shake their heads from his feet and depart from them.

Judge Allen said in discharging the young man: "My boy, do you not realize that you owe a duty to humanity as well as to yourself? You should consider the fact that you are well and strong and perhaps much better able to support yourself than those who may have contributed to your support. When you are older you may find that you are an enthusiast on some question, and in some of your statements I do not think you are crazy."

Millican explained to Judge Allen why he had sworn to the complaint against Coggshall, and his story was, in substance, as follows: About six weeks ago Bert E. Davison, the twenty-one-year-old son of M. M. Davison, a druggist of Redondo, because acquainted with Coggshall. As a result of Coggshall's teachings, young Davison left his home to and lived with Coggshall, sold everything he owned with the exception of the clothing on his back, and refused to work or to recognize his father and mother as his parents.

Yesterday morning, Millican, who is a former roommate of young Davison, received a letter from the latter's father asking that immediate steps be taken to have Coggshall shut up in the asylum. Davison was said to have told this done as he had heard that Coggshall and his son intended leaving for the East in the near future. Davison was certain that if he could get his son away from Coggshall for a few days he could cure him of his fanatical ideas. Millican accordingly swore out a complaint with the above-described result.

TO ASSURE PROCEEDINGS.

Trouble Over an Alleged Breach of Warranty.

A suit was filed yesterday by the American Waltham Manufacturing Company of Waltham, Mass., against J. C. Robinson and Cyrus F. Cooke, Justice of the Peace of El Monte Township. The action is brought to annul the proceedings in a Justice Court.

Robinson sued the manufacturing company for $241.50 for an alleged breach of warranty to furnish two good bicycles. The Robinsons claimed that the company and claimed that they were faulty, and he says it would not make good its guarantee. The company alleges that it was not given notice of the fact that its default had been entered in Justice Cooke's court, and judgment for Robinson ordered, until after thirty days had elapsed and no appeal could be taken. The company says in its complaint that the defect was in the bearings was a simple matter and could readily have been put in order at the factory. Furthermore, it claims that it offered to take back the wheels and make the defects good, but the offer was not accepted.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Jury Convicts Will Warner in Half an Hour.

The trial of the case entitled, The People of the State of California against Will Warner was finished yesterday in Department One of the Superior Court, and Will Warner was convicted of the crime of manslaughter. Warner is the third colored person who has been tried for the murder of James Belieu, "Kid" or Emanuel Brown, was found guilty and his sentence fixed at life imprisonment in the State penitentiary, and "Morphine Man" Pierce was found guilty of manslaughter.

After the arguments of the attorneys yesterday, Judge Smith read the instructions of the court, and the jury retired at 2:50 p.m. In just twenty-five minutes the jurors agreed upon a verdict, which proved to be manslaughter. Warner was inclined to make merry over the verdict, and his white teeth shone from his ebony countenance in a broad grin as soon as the ordeal was over.

Bathing the baby is one of the joys of young motherhood. The mere sight and touch of the soft, sweet, cooing, crowing little creature is a solace for many sorrows. This business is missed if either mother or child be sickly, weak, nervous, cross. If either is so, it is the mother's fault. She has failed to keep herself well and strong during the period of gestation, and the neglect shows in her baby.

All the peculiar ills of womanhood are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It relieves pain, allays inflammation, stops debilitating drains, strengthens and vitalizes the organs involved. It so perfectly prepares a woman for the time of parturition that pain and danger are practically eliminated. By its use perfect health is assured for both mother and baby. It is the most marvellously efficient medicine ever devised for this purpose and the only one that may be absolutely depended upon.

Mrs. Amanda Ellison, of No. 210 Bonville St., (Boston A. Springfield, Mo., writes: "I am happy to say that I followed your advice and took your 'Favorite Prescription' before my fourth child was born, and it was a healthy baby. My first three were still born. Your advice was to take the 'Favorite Prescription' before my fourth child was born. Now I have two boys living and they are fine. I am the happy mother of these two boys."

Dr. Pierce's 1000 page book, Common Sense Medical Adviser is full of useful knowledge from ill-paid to free. It contains 1000 paper covers for the bare cost of mailing. Send 21 one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. For 10 cents extra (9 cents in all), the book will be sent in fine French cloth binding.

How far-reaching the effects of the Democrats' attack upon the municipal commissions may be is only to be decided by time.

THE FIRST MATTER WHICH CAME BEFORE THE BOARD OF FIRE COMMISSIONERS WAS THE REPORT OF FIRE CHIEF MOORE.

He reported that practice drills were held on April 23, and on May 1 and following days.

An order was made to Fire Chief Moore to have engine-house No. 1 fitted with electric lights.

This was done on motion of Commissioner Kuhns, who said that he believed there was great danger of fire as long as lamps were used to light the quarters.

An application was received from W. Tubbs and George W. Evans for permission to bore for oil in block No. 6 of the Beauty tract.

The matter was referred to the Fire Chief with power to act.

G. W. Bright, a colored man, presented a long petition and application for a place in the force of the fire department.

He was given to understand that his case would be considered, and that he would be assigned to duty at the first opportunity.

EVADE RESPONSIBILITY.

Only Hutchison Ready to Accept the Brunt of Criticism.

The Democratic combine in the Council which is responsible for the election of Mr. Forman from the Board of Police Commissioners, is slowly coming to its senses.

Councilman Hutchison is the only one to whose head the political fumes have mounted and he is still in an unnatural condition of exhilaration.

Councilman Nickell gave repeated assurances yesterday that he was innocent of any designs to oust Chief Glass.

The matter had gone far enough, in his opinion. He admitted, as did Councilman Ashman, that it would have been wiser and fairer in every respect to have resigned Mr. Forman's dismissal for a week, pending investigation of his official acts.

While they had evidently enjoyed their spree, and were inclined to boast of their performances during its continuation, they were beginning to feel the after repentant mood.

There can be no doubt but public criticism is bringing them to their senses.

HARROD'S SUICIDE.

HIS FATHER-IN-LAW DESCRIBES HIS TRAGIC DEATH.

He Takes Exception to Published Reports of Harrold's Past Life and His Suicide.

KILLED HIMSELF IN INSANITY.

HIS MARRIED LIFE HAD BEEN A HAPPY ONE.

The Woman Whom Harrold Charged with Trying to Blackmail Him, George Barker Says no Coercion Was Attempted.

The tragic death of E. W. Harrold of Ventura county, a week ago, by his own hand, has greatly grieved his friends and family. J. B. Harris, the father-in-law of the dead man, thinks that the facts in relation to his death have not been understood or realized, and that injustice was done to his memory by the report which rumor has spread of his insanity. He found place in the account published in yesterday's Times.

J. B. Harris is an old resident of California. For thirty years he lived in San Francisco; he spent years in Central America building railroads and directing work done on the Nicaragua canal, and at present he is living in Monrovia, resting and taking his ease after a busy life.

"There is no doubt whatever," said Mr. Harris yesterday "that Mr. Harrold committed suicide while suffering from a form of insanity. His life had been a happy one; there was nothing to make him wish to die, and he himself, in the moments when he inflicted the fatal wound and his death, declared that he could not understand what had happened to him. He was a fatal shot, and that he was exceedingly sorry that he had tried to kill himself."

"In his long life there was one unpleasant experience, but it reflected no discredit upon himself, though it was the cause of much annoyance. "When he was a boy near Bloomington, Ill., he knew a certain young girl whose maiden name I have forgotten. She was married to a man named Wiley, and Harrold met all trace of her and forgot her. He went to Texas and made a fortune in the cattle business. He and his brother sold one herd of cattle for over a hundred dollars. The woman heard of his wealth, and as she had recently been divorced from Wiley, she determined to try to obtain some of Harrold's money. She instituted a suit in the Fort Worth, Texas, courts, alleging that, after her divorce, she had been seduced by Harrold under promise of marriage.

"Shortly before the time when this suit was instituted, Mr. Harrold had become engaged to my daughter, then Miss Clarice Harris. She was only a child, and my wife and I did not want her to marry and leave us. We had only esteem for Mr. Harrold personally, but we wanted to keep our daughter with us longer. We offered to take her to Europe or to the Holy Land if she would remain unmarried. But she could not be persuaded, so the two became engaged.

"This was in February, and it was shortly after that the Wiley woman instituted breach of promise proceedings in Texas. Mr. Harrold came to me and told me the whole story. He declared that the woman had not the slightest claim against him, and that he never had anything whatever to do with her, and that it was a case of attempted blackmail, pure and simple. He asked me to go to Texas and satisfy myself that his character was unblemished.

"I went to Fort Worth, thoroughly investigated the matter, and found that he had told the simple truth, and the result was that the woman lost her suit and that Harrold married my daughter in October of the same year. "All my daughter's life had been passed in San Francisco. Harrold wanted her to go and live with him in his ranch home near Saticoy. She went and, greatly to the surprise of myself and wife, who had not hoped for such things from a girl who had been brought up in a large city, she was entirely happy and contented. They lived a thoroughly happy life together. To the day of his death they were together continually, and always occupied the same room. They were both very much attached to their three children, a boy of 10, a boy of 8, and a girl of 3.

"But before the children were born, and shortly after the marriage took place, the Wiley woman made her appearance in Ventura. She tried to obtain an interview with Mr. Harrold or his wife, but in vain. She did not dare to come to the house, but she would drive past the place, and we heard of her presence in the neighborhood. One day she was seen in the neighborhood of the Harrold ranch. I told Mr. Harrold that he need not see her, but that I would have an interview with her myself. I went out of doors and found her in a carriage with a liveried stable driver. I told her exactly what I thought of her. I reproached her with her reputation and her real character, and at last she drove away, anxious never to see me again if she could possibly avoid it. Shortly after she left, Ventura county and passed completely out of our lives. Where she is now I neither know nor care.

"About a month ago I received a telegram from my daughter that her baby was sick. My wife and I went immediately to Saticoy. The baby was soon better, but we found that Harrold himself was ill. It was the worst possible illness, an affection of the mind. He was a man of great energy and force, and he was about to lose all of his property, and the financial ruin stared him in the face. I looked into all his affairs, and found that he was not solvent. He had debts worth at least $400,000, and that his debts were not over $10,000 all told. I assured him, and told him that the very next day I would draw a check in his favor for $10,000. But this did not seem to reassure him in the least, and when I said that I was greatly disturbed, for it told me that he was going insane. He seemed perfectly rational on every subject except that of his financial affairs. We consulted Dr. Bard and Dr. Kelsey, two physicians who enjoy high repute in Ventura county, and they gave us full directions as to how to care for him, which were explicitly obeyed.

"On Monday morning, April 12, we went out of doors. Harrold went into the barn, presumably to care for the horses. A few minutes later his ten-year-old son came running out, and told me that he had found his father hanging from a beam with a rope around his neck, and that he had loosened the rope so as to let him fall to the ground, and then taken it from his neck.

"We carried Harrold into the house and sent for physicians. He was soon in normal physical health again. The physicians told us that we had better take him to my ranch at Monrovia, and in case that that did not seem to restore his mental health, to take him to Dr. Robinson's sanitarium at Livermore.

"Last Friday morning something happened which altered all our plans. We were just through breakfast. Mr. Harrold was left in the dining-room, waiting for his breakfast. When the little girl had finished her breakfast, he swung her for quite a time in a little swing that hung in the doorway. Then he left the dining-room and entered his own bedroom. He appears to have taken an odd empty shotgun from under the bed, where it had been kept for years. He evidently took a yard-ride from a high mantel shelf, where a box of them had lain forgotten, except by him, for a long time; he loaded the gun, and slipping its muzzle under his vest, he shot himself in the breast. We had locked up all the razors and other dangerous weapons were thus put to naught.

"My wife, who had always been one of his very warmest friends, was the first to enter. She called for help, but in spite of everything that could be done, he died a few hours later, sincerely mourning his insane act."

A letter has been received from Coroner C. N. Baker of Ventura in which he takes exception to the account of the death of the Wiley woman, published in the Times. He says there was no disposition on the part of the Harrold household to conceal or deny anything. He says that he made use of no threats of imprisonment in order to induce them to tell the facts in relation to the death of Mr. Harrold. Coroner Baker concludes his letter by saying:

"Mr. Harrold died about 11 o'clock, and before twenty minutes there was a telephone message from there, requesting me to come immediately and bring a coroner's jury with me. On arrival there I held the inquest, and everyone who knew anything about his death testified freely and voluntarily. The verdict was: Death from a gunshot wound, inflicted by himself, while insane."

The foregoing statement from J. B. Harris is self-explanatory, and is published as a simple matter of justice to him and his family, and with a sincere expression of regret on the part of the Times that it was led into error in the matter. The alleged facts and circumstances from which the original report of the Harrold suicide were written were given to the Times reporter with such explicitness of detail that there was every reason to believe the story correct. In the light of Mr. Harris' statement, however, it is now apparent that the reporter was deceived by his informant in essential particulars.

On the other hand, it has been ascertained that the woman claiming to be Harrold's first wife is in Los Angeles and that she threatens to proceed against the dead man's estate. She was located by a Times reporter last evening at No. 428 South Grand avenue, but she refused to see anyone, feigning illness.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

Exhibit in Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Discontinued.

RIVERSIDE, May 5.—[Regular Correspondence.] Riverside county will discontinue its exhibit in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. This conclusion was arrived at by the Board of Supervisors before adjournment at noon today. It was decided to discontinue the exhibit for economical reasons, as the chamber charges a monthly rental for the space occupied by the county's exhibit. A motion to discontinue the exhibit was carried, and D. A. Correll was authorized to arrange for the packing and storing of the articles that now make up the county's exhibit.

Gill presented an ordinance changing the date of the meetings of the board to the second and fourth Tuesdays in each month. The ordinance was adopted unanimously, to take effect July 1.
